TRIG™

A space you'll love to live in

As flexible work hours blur the line between work and home life, Trig Desking brings a welcome touch of residential appeal to the workplace – and a businesslike approach to supporting your practical needs.

Trig offers a lower-profile office landscape providing visual access to team members and access to daylighting and exterior views.

The crisp, clean lines and lighter scale reflect contemporary style. A broad range of product options and ease of ownership help optimize time, space and resources. And the generous menu of design choices lets you tailor an environment to express your own taste and personality.

 COVER: Private office presented in Designer White and Chocolate Pear laminate. Shown with Code mesh back seating.

Easy to live with

Trig is simple to own. The concise, well-articulated menu of modular elements makes moves, adds and changes almost effortless. Plus, with clever options like cubbies and overlapping storage, maximizing space is easy. Whatever your footprint requires, Trig offers lots of choices. And with its quality construction and strong warranty, you'll be enjoying your investment for years to come.

Both configurations feature Surface Mount Screens and Under Desk Support Storage units that replace Work Surface Support Legs.

Open for business

With laptops and mobile devices, many people take their work with them and don't need a conventional office. Trig's a natural for collaborative, fast-paced teams on the go.

You'll touch down and be on your way quickly with Trig's benching solution. Offering a variety of privacy screens and easy power/data access that slides out of sight when not in use, it's easy to get comfortable and get to work with Trig.

Conquering space

Space-planning gets easy with Trig's versatile kit of parts. The smart collection of elements configures to meet traditional needs as well as unique requirements.

From creative work surface shapes and elements to a variety of storage options supporting personal preferences, Trig makes it simple to design and re-design beautiful spaces, your way.

Plus, Trig storage does a lot more than just store. Divide and define space and support work surfaces . . . that means fewer parts to manage – and buy.

Endless possibilities

With Trig, it's easy to create work spaces that appeal to everyone, from the CPA to the Design Director. The generous finish palette can be extended even further by creatively combining colors in your furniture selections.

Trig integrates easily with Trendway's Choices System, Intrinsic Casegoods and Architectural Products, as well - expanding your possibilities even farther.
