The Need:

Do we work here or live here? Sometimes it's hard to tell! We need a work space that helps us do our job and feels great to live in.

The Solution:

CHOICES TEAM SPACE. Here's the flexibility you need to create the perfect work environment. Put privacy panels where they're needed, low panels to open your view to daylight and team members. Choose layered work surfaces to add visual interest and support your work style. Teamed with Intrinsic Freestanding and Pack Filing and Storage, Choices lets you create the kind of work space you'd love to live in.

The Need:

Our people carry their office on their laptop. When they touch down at home base, we need a comfortable spot for them to connect quickly and catch up on tasks and communications.

The Solution:

TOUCHDOWNER. The Touchdowner configuration invites visitors to get down to business quickly and get back on the road. Versatile Contrada tiles team with Choices components to deliver a technology hotspot. Accommodating five users in a small footprint, the open staggered-view design gives a sense of privacy and brings power and data to the desk level for quick access.

The Need: Make an impression
The Solution: With almost limitless design flexibility, Contrada Raw lets you express your brand personality.

Get inspired.

We're an employee-owned company, and take pride in delivering great products and unmatched service.

Intrinsic® | Freestanding

The Need:

We're not about business as usual. We want a new take on 'executive' that suits our collaborative management style.

The Solution:

NOT YOUR FATHER'S OFFICE. Definitely not top-down, this high visibility workspace invites collaboration. Not weighed down by traditional expectations, the elements provide a free-floating aesthetic. Wall-hung Intrinsic Freestanding storage cabinets combine with an Intrinsic Kidney-Shaped table and Code Executive seating for a clean, simple design statement.

The Need: Something a bit more buttoned-down.

The Solution: Intrinsic Freestanding offers an affordable, well-dressed aesthetic for the entire workplace.

The Need:

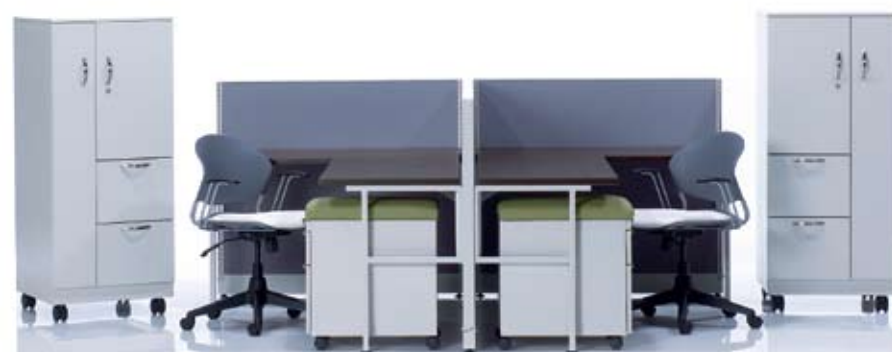

With complex projects on our plate, our team needs to work in perfect synch and have resources right where we need them.

The Solution:

INTERACTIVE WORK AREA. The interactive work area is designed to support a highly collaborative team with a lot of balls in the air. Choices panels deliver full access to power and data. The stand-up Choices worksurfaces foster close communications and let all-day users change position frequently. Pack filing and storage frames the configuration with accessible high-storage capacity.

The Need: Small footprint

The Solution: With low panel height and light-scaled components, a compact Choices workspace doesn't feel closed in.

Be reliable.

Trendway has served the requirements of the U.S. Government as a GSA contract holder for over 15 years.

The Need:

We want to redefine the function and look of our space while supporting our commitment to sustainability, but we're already occupying it. We don't want the hassle and mess of construction.

The Solution:

STOREFRONTS. TrendWall with glazed panels and fabric-covered inserts outperforms drywall and makes a crisp architectural statement. And rather than suffer several weeks of dust, noise, and disruption, this TrendWall solution was installed in a day. Reconfiguration and expansion are equally straightforward, requiring only installation labor and producing no construction waste.

The Need: Redefining a different kind of space.

The Solution: TrendWall provides the flexibility to fit almost every space requirement.

Rest easy.

Call Trendway's Customer Care department and a person, a live voice, will be there in Holland, Michigan to help – not a recording.

The Need:

People take their seating personally. We're looking for chairs that work as hard as our team, and support a variety of tasks and work styles.

The Solution:

SEATING. Trendway ergonomic seating flexes to your needs, whether the day brings an hours-long conference, up and down tasking, or casual, café style meetings. Trendway's seating collection gives you mesh, upholstered, and shell options, so you can configure solutions that adapt to your needs and preferences.
